The wrap-around helm station has enough room to equip the vessel with virtually any navigation and communication tool a captain desires. Below deck you will appreciate the full beam master suite that can be equipped with his and hers head compartments. This stateroom is also outfitted with an Ultra leather sofa lounge and a king sized, inner-spring, pillow-top mattress. The cabinets, lockers and drawers have been designed and engineered to neatly organize and store the owners on board wardrobe.

Salon

The designers of the Marquis 690 have taken full advantage of the yacht's 18' beam to layout an incredibly spacious salon. Entertainment electronics are enclosed in custom cabinets and appear with a simple push of a button. Panoramic salon windows provide 360° visibility and daytime illumination.

Salon - Dining

The yacht's gourmet galley was designed by experienced chefs to be a stylish and functional environment. The select granite countertops, nicely figured granite flooring and stainless appliances contribute to the rich feel of the ship's galley. The dining table is adjacent to the galley and is custom crafted to blend with the yacht's interior décor. The sculpted circular stairway leads to the yacht's bridge.

Galley - Salon

All counters are constructed with premium grade, highly figured granite that complements the hardwood hues of the handmade cabinets. Fit and finish is exceptional.

Master Stateroom

The king size bed is enveloped by plush carpet, hand crafted hardwood bulkheads, doors and cabinets and hand sewn upholstery. The master stateroom's head compartment includes a bath tub with shower spray and luxurious amenities including Italian Botticino marble countertops and flooring.

VIP Stateroom

The private and comfortable VIP Stateroom has its own head and shower compartment. An array of drawers, lockers and cabinets make this area a place where guests will feel at home.

Bridge Helm

The Marquis 690 can be equipped with both a bridge helm and lower helm station. Engine and bow/stern thruster controls can also be mounted in the ship's cockpit.

The essence of a yacht built by Marquis lies in a combination of its outward design and its inner strength. While other yachts may be pretty on the outside, those same yachts are frequently found to be undependable, or require excessive amounts of maintenance. Marquis on the other hand, represents the perfect combination of attractive style and superior construction. Marquis is a yacht built for people who are experienced and knowledgeable in both the ways of the world and of the sea.

Marquis yachts are designed and styled by Nuvolari-Lenard Naval Architects of Venice Italy, one of the most renowned naval design firms in the world. Yachtsmen familiar with contemporary yacht design are familiar with the work of Carlo Nuvolari and Dan Lenard. They have special skills in designing yachts that are distinctive in appearance yet practical in use, and have proven their ability to incorporate striking lines and thoughtful features into every one of the many Marquis yachts they have designed.

A yacht's inner strength comes from selecting the right materials and properly implementing an engineering process that results in consistent construction quality. The Marquis yacht yard is staffed by some of the most experienced nautical engineers and yacht builders in the world. Located within America's heartland of ship and yacht building, Marquis represents literally hundreds of years of combined yacht building experience. Every Marquis yacht is built by experienced craftsmen who have an unyielding passion for building the best yachts in the world.
