Sailing classic yacht BLACK SWAN (ex S/Y Brynhild) is a truly beautiful 40,50m (132' 10") Camper & Nicholson's yacht launched in 1899 and designed by Charles E. Nicholson. She was commissioned by Major Selwin Calvery and she was launched at the Camper & Nicholson's yard in Gosport, England in 1899. BLACK SWAN 1899 is one of the largest and oldest classic sailing yachts in the world and she is a true gem!

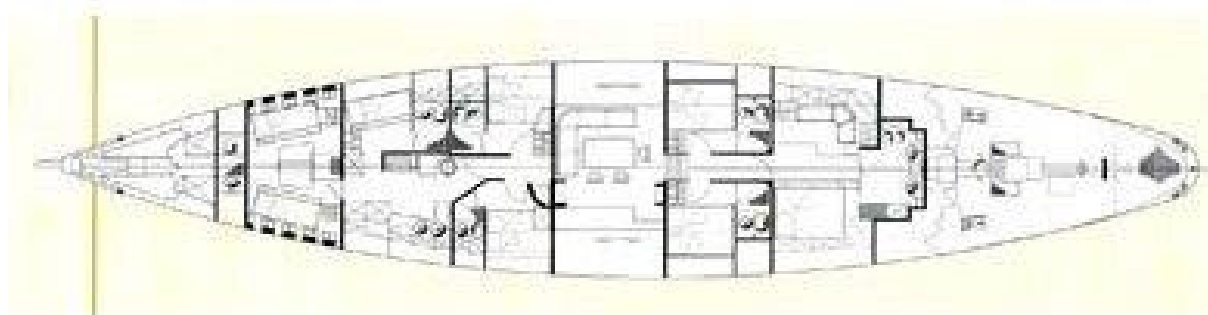

Black Swan underwent a major refit in 2000/2002, where most of the bottom planking was renewed and the whole deck structure carefully reconditioned. She received a complete new set of spars and rigging and the two original engines were rebuilt, as well as all technical, electric and plumbing equipment.

Now the Black Swan is the ideal way to experience a lovely classic sailboat and a fantastic yacht.

After the refit, BLACK SWAN comfortably accommodates up to 10 guests. The owner's master cabin has a large double bed to port and a settee to starboard with its own en-suite shower/toilets and two washbasins.

The guest's accommodation is made up of five cabins offering various alternatives for berth organization. Two guest cabins are situated forward of the saloon and have with upper and lower berths. Aft, there are two additional guest cabins with large beds plus an extra Pullman berth. All guest cabins have en-suite showers and toilets.

Sailing yacht BLACK SWAN is a superb and rare opportunity. She was conceived by a very experienced owner to perform when it comes to sailing and comfort. Accordingly BLACK SWAN has been in some famous races but also the interior and facilities of the yacht are to the highest possible standards, making her incredibly spacious, home like and stable.
