DESCRIPTION

The Cabo 32 is an offshore fighting machine designed and built by fishermen for fishermen. Even though she only measures 32' 10" (10.10 m) she is 13' 3" (4.07 m) wide and displaces a hefty 19.100 lbs. (8.681 kgs.). That's a beam/length ratio of 40%! That's something that you rarely see in any size boat, and it means she has a larger cockpit, wider bridge decks, and more spacious interior than any boat in her class. It also means that you have 360-degree access around her twin diesel engines, something that is implementation problematic in many boats her size. If you have been thinking about a big convertible or large express fishboat but are in shock and awe of the price tags, then take our advice and give the Cabo 32 some consideration.
