DESCRIPTION

The challenge the factory set for the creation of the T50 was that it should offer a first-class experience. In every sense. Style. Living space. Performance. And the result speaks for itself. You'll discover a unique approach to improving performance and a design that delivers outstanding responsiveness. We believe this is the most complete 50-footer ever built. But as always, you need to experience it for yourself. This Sealine T50 has been never really used and, even if built in 2009, she has been delivered new in 2011. British flag, with a good leasing contract, she is the perfect deal. Call for further details.
